

About the Contributors

Otaniyenuwa Asemota MBBS MD

Family physician. Dr Asemota is medical director of the Moriah Medical Centre, Savanna La Mar, Jamaica and adjunct lecturer in the Department of Community Health and Psychiatry, Faculty of Medical Sciences, University of the West Indies (UWI), Mona, Jamaica. His research interests include HIV care in family medicine settings.

Alina Martínez-Rodríguez MS

Pharmacoepidemiologist. Ms Martínez-Rodríguez is an instructor at the Medical University of Havana and researcher at the Pedro Kourí Tropical Medicine Institute. Her research focuses on pharmacoepidemiology and tuberculosis.

Alejandro González-Fernández MD MS

Physician with dual specialties in family medicine and physical medicine & rehabilitation at the Julio Díaz National Rehabilitation Center in Havana, Cuba. Dr González-Fernández holds a master's degree in diagnostic tools for primary care.

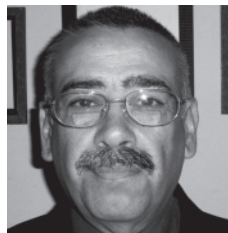

Pedro E. Miguel-Soca MD MS

Physician specializing in clinical biochemistry. Dr Miguel-Soca is associate professor and adjunct researcher at the Medical University of Holguín, and has numerous Cuban and international publications on chronic non-communicable diseases and metabolic syndrome.

Rebeca S. González-Fernández MD MS

Family physician. Dr González-Fernández teaches at the Medical University of Havana and is national programs coordinator at TecnoSuma International, Havana, Cuba.

Victor René Navarro-Machado MD PhD

Internist and intensivist, with a doctorate in public health. Dr Navarro-Machado is full professor and senior researcher at the Medical University of Cienfuegos, as well as director of Cienfuegos Province's Council of Scientific Societies in Health.

Alina González-Quevedo MD PhD

Physician and biochemist. Dr González-Quevedo is senior researcher and full professor of biochemistry at the Cuban Neurology and Neurosurgery Institute and the Medical University of Havana.

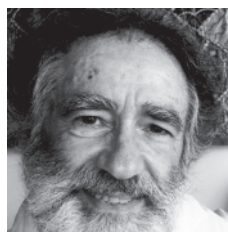

Carlos M. Orantes-Navarro MD

Nephrologist. Dr Orantes-Navarro is national renal research coordinator for the Salvadoran Ministry of Health's National Health Institute. His primary research is on chronic kidney disease of uncertain etiology in rural Salvadoran communities.

Pierre M. LaRamée MA PhD

Executive Director of Medical Education Cooperation with Cuba (MEDICC). With advanced degrees in political science and international development, Dr LaRamée has held executive positions at the International Planned Parenthood Federation, the Puerto Rican Legal Defense & Education Fund and the North American Congress on Latin America (NACLA).

Nino Pagliccia MSc

Statistician. Mr. Pagliccia has managed collaborative projects with Cuban partners in the University of British Columbia's Global Health Research Program. He is the editor of Cuba Solidarity in Canada—Five Decades of People-to-People Foreign Relations (2014).